

Children's Rights

Children's rights are listed in the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child. They apply to all children in Australia. All children have the same rights. Some of these rights include:

The right to practice your own religion, culture and language.

The right to be protected from sexual abuse.

The right to be protected from being hurt and mistreated, in body and mind.

The right to Privacy.

The right to an education.

The right to your own religion and beliefs.

The right to have a say in decisions by adults that may affect you.
