

Children's Rights

'Rights' are things every child under 18 years should have or be able to do. All children have the same rights. These rights are listed in the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, which apply to all children in Australia. Some of these rights include:

You have the right to practice your own religion, culture and language.

You have the right to be free from sexual abuse.

You have the right to be protected from being hurt and mistreated, in body and mind.

You have the right to privacy.

You have the right to learn.

You have the right to your own religion and beliefs.

You have a right to have a say in decisions by adults that may affect you.
